PROGRAMME INFORMATION

What is Oxford Summer Institute?

Oxford Summer Institute (OSI) is offered in a dynamic destination. The programme is offered jointly with Oriel College (University of Oxford, UK) and CBL International. OSI offers courses focusing on International Law, International Economics, Politics, Philosophy, & Economics (PPE), Business & Legal English, Computer Science, Mathematics, Physics, and Academic Writing & English Literature. The 2-week sessions offer participants the opportunity to choose a course to study per week, with the chance to extend the programme to 4, 6, 8, or even 10 weeks.

At OSI, you'll attend seminar-style classes with maximum group sizes of 30 to 40 students to ensure the highest quality of teaching.

We work with an outstanding faculty made up of selected professors and lecturers from the University of Oxford, the University of Cambridge and other prestigious institutions with a strong connection to these two world-class universities.

Participants of OSI have the fantastic opportunity to extend their experience to include the prestigious sister programme Cambridge Summer Institute (CSI). CSI is offered jointly with an elite university, Magdalene College (University of Cambridge, UK), to offer courses focusing on International Business & Management, International Relations & Politics, Business & Legal English, and History.

INTERNATIONAL LAW

The programme will give all participants the opportunity to attend cutting-edge lectures on international and European law. Delegates will appreciate the strong focus on common legal issues that arise in the most complex commercial cases across different borders, learning more about international transactions as well as lawyering across various jurisdictions. This programme is the only extensive summer programme in Oxford that focuses on international law. Changes to course descriptions, topics, programme structure, and schedules may occur due to the availability of faculty members at the actual time of the programme. The following courses have been offered in International Law in previous years:

Legal Theory and Intellectual Property Rights

Looking at the functions of the rule of Law in Common law jurisdictions, these lectures analyse the nature and importance of rules in legal systems. Moving on to IP Rights, this course will provide an overview of the international legal framework of the protection of intellectual property in international trade.

European Business Law

We introduce the main concepts in European Law and European Business Law giving students a better understanding of the European Legal System. Topics such as the European Institution and Economics Law, European Corporate Law, and European Competition Law will be analysed and discussed.

International Environmental Law

International environmental law is a dynamic and rapidly developing area of international law. It regulates the management and use of natural resources, defines the relationship between people, the environment and national and international governance and establishes systems of liability for environmental damage.

United Kingdom Contract & Corporate Law

This course will provide delegates with knowledge of important legal aspects including the Companies Act, Case Law, and legislations both in the UK and Europe which impact on contract and corporate law. As many international contracts are governed by UK, US, or Hong Kong law, it is important for students to learn about these aspects of Common Law. Delegates will have the opportunity to read and discuss cases that reflect fundamental theories and legislations.

International Criminal Law - Business-related Cases

The major areas of general international law and more specifically international criminal law will be introduced to delegates. The lectures cover topics on the nature and sources of international law, the law of treaties, international legal personality, jurisdiction and immunities, the use of force and the procedures for peaceful settlement of disputes, law of armed conflicts, the nature of international crime, international criminal tribunals and international criminal procedure.

International Trade and Maritime Law

We examine all the pressing issues of International Trade Law, and will shed light on the emerging trends and challenges in the field. It will offer a comprehensive overview of International Economic Law and explore all the surrounding aspects of trade. Maritime Law will take into account the need to regulate such a wide range of sea-related transactions, providing delegates with an understanding of shipping law, maritime law, international trade, and law of the sea.

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS

We offer a number of courses focusing on global economic trends, international taxation, behavioural, and development economics. Whilst studying in such a unique destination, we offer delegates the chance to learn about international and theoretical economics as part of OSI. Changes to course descriptions, topics, programme structure, and schedules may occur due to the availability of faculty members at the actual time of the programme.

Global Macroeconomics

We focus on the important subjects of macroeconomic fluctuations in the Western World, mainly the United States and the European Union, as well as China, Japan, and South-East Asia; fiscal policy and debt dynamics in the world economy; exchange rate policy and global demand imbalances; international inflation performance, consumption, and savings in the global economy.

International Taxation

This course deals with the key issues of international taxation. It provides a concise but yet comprehensive introduction to international taxation and offers an in-depth coverage of some selected topics (e.g. harmful tax competition, exchange of information). UK tax law is used to explain basic principles and concepts generally relevant to national tax systems. Whilst using the examples of UK tax provisions as a starting point, this course covers a wide variety of domestic, international, and EU-related tax issues.

Financial Crisis and Policy Responses

Participants are introduced to the banking systems and the financial crisis of 2008, emphasising the credit crunch and its effects on the real economy, and then deal with the sovereign debt crisis in Europe; the so-called 'Euro Crisis'. Additional subjects will be covered such as unconventional monetary policy and the banking reform as a result of the crisis.

Development Economics

Giving an overview of policy-related issues faced by developing countries from both theoretical and applied perspectives, delegates will cover topics including economic development and economic growth; poverty and inequality; gender discrimination; governance and institutions; media and corruption; natural resources and development; and the effectiveness of foreign aid in assisting developing countries.

Behavioural Economics

The objectives of this course are to introduce delegates to the approach and methods of behavioural economics. Psychological and social factors play an important role in human behaviours and decision-making processes. Behavioural economics increase the explanatory power of economics by incorporating these factors in order to provide more realistic psychological foundations for economic analysis.

PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS, & ECONOMICS

The combination of philosophy, politics, and economics is an extremely popular subject choice at Oxford and many well-known politicians, including British prime Minister David Cameron, have studied how these subjects are interlinked. Through understanding philosophical viewpoints and theories, PPE courses will encourage delegates to approach the study of politics and economics from alternative perspectives. Changes to course descriptions, topics, programme structure, and schedules may occur due to the availability of faculty members at the actual time of the programme.

Historic Political and Economic Philosophy

This course gives delegates an overview of historic philosophical schools. It covers aspects of ancient European philosophy with its origins in Athens and Rome as well as medieval thinking. It will give delegates the chance to learn more about the different concepts of state, power, individual rights, as well as the origins of economical ethics.

Contemporary Political and Economic Philosophy

Delegates gain an insight into the modern philosophical thinking beginning with Machiavelli and the enlightenment. Various philosophical schools and their viewpoints will be discussed and the ideas of John Locke, Adam Smith, and Descartes will be analysed. Concepts of justice, equality, need, and human rights will be addressed including aspects of theories which argue that there is a duty of justice to distribute resources; justice towards future generations; national self-determination, multiculturalism, and the various concepts of a 'just war'.

Ethics and Global Issues

Delegates gain a broad overview of some of the major topics and debates within contemporary ethics, introducing students to the nature and motivation of normative inquiry, the leading theories of moral conduct, as well as considering a number of prominent ethical issues relevant to current affairs. Theories such as egoism and altruism will be introduced as well as debatable issues like terrorism, human rights, and poverty will be open to class discussion.

COMPUTER SCIENCE, MATHEMATICS, & PHYSICS

Oxford is home to a wealth of research. Many discoveries and developments in science and mathematics can be credited to the research and work done in Oxford's many laboratories. The following courses offer insight to some of the exciting areas to those with an interest in the scientific world. Changes to course descriptions, topics, programme structure, and schedules may occur due to the availability of faculty members at the actual time of the programme.

Cosmology and Large-Scale Structures

The aim of this course is to present the most relevant theoretical and observational results on which modern cosmology are based. The course covers the basic mathematical framework of the standard cosmological model, its observational motivations and its most important short-comings. At the end of the course students should be able to understand the main open questions in cosmology, as well as the current and future observational and computational tools used to tackle them.

Theoretical Physics: Symmetries and Field Theories

This short course will focus on one of the primary guides to our understanding of modern day physics: symmetries. In particular, how symmetries can be used to construct gauge theories, the Higgs mechanism and gravity as a gauge theory. Other topics covered include Shift and Galilean symmetries in the early and late universe.

Numerical Analysis

Differential equations are one of the most fundamental tools in almost all areas of science. The aim of this course is to give an introduction to the numerical solution of differential equations. Starting with the representation and approximation of functions (continuous objects) by vectors (discrete data), delegates discuss how the basic calculus tasks (differentiation, integration) are done on a computer and move on to solving differential equations.

Image Processing & Surface Computing

Image Processing: Image processing uses mathematics to manipulate digital images like from a camera or a medical scanning device. The aim of this course is to give an introduction to diffusion PDEs as a means for image processing. In particular we will discuss edge-stopping, edge-enhancing, and coherence-enhancing diffusion models. Beyond that we will give an overview of other image processing tasks such as image inpainting and image deblurring which can be modelled with PDEs. The course will be a combination of lectures and practical computing work.

Surface Computing: This course introduces numerical solutions of Partial Differential Equations (PDEs) on surfaces using the Closest Point Method. Surface PDEs arise from many applications in physics, biology, and engineering. Among various numerical techniques for solving surface PDEs, the Closest Point Method is easy to implement and it works for a wide range of PDEs on surfaces with complex geometries. This course will cover basic theories, numerics and MATLAB implementations related to the method. On completion of the course, students can potentially solve interesting PDEs on intricate surfaces.

ACADEMIC WRITING & ENGLISH LITERATURE

Academic Writing and English Literature courses are a fantastic way for delegates to develop their writing skills in an academic context, as well as analysing the work of literary greats. As delegates make Oxford their home during the programme, they will have the opportunity to study not just British Culture but also the importance of communication between cultures.

Academic Writing & Critical Thinking

Students will learn how to identify and critique implicit claims in academic and journalistic writing, what characterises weak arguments and how to formulate strong ones, as well as how to interpret visual arguments in video or photographic media. Students will also acquire more practical skills, including how to interpret essay questions, how to structure and reference an academic essay, as well as how to write with clarity, brevity and maximum impact.

English Literature

This course will offer delegates a strong foundation for understanding the various facets of English Literature across eras and genres, tempering historical and ideological depth with attention to textual details. Prose, poetry, and drama will be considered in dynamic ways, inflected by engagement with various political, socio-economic, religious, philosophical, and cultural ideas.

British Culture and History

The objective of this course is to provide students with an understanding of how English and British culture has developed over the ages. Why, for instance, do we use the terms 'English' and 'British' interchangeably? How have they shaped each other conceptually? How has the notion of nationhood manifested itself in British art, literature, and culture in different eras? Each lecture will provide delegates with a strong historical and cultural foundation with which to approach literary texts, while also encouraging students to engage critically with questions of historiography.

Intercultural Communication

This course will look at key academic and practical topics involved in intercultural communication. Drawing on the fields of literary studies, linguistics, anthropology, ethnography, and cultural studies, delegates will analyse topics including, 'Communicating between cultures', 'Translation', 'Verbal and Non-verbal Communication', and 'Cultures and Concepts'.

BUSINESS & LEGAL ENGLISH

Developing confidence and skills in English is key to success in today's international business environment. Our intensive course has been tailored to promote fluency in these areas of communication. Using language to the best of our abilities is a primary factor in furthering careers. Business & Legal English courses are designed to be extremely complementary when paired with any of our courses.

Business English

This course will focus on the reading, writing, and listening skills of the English language in a business context. By being able to understand and use business language, participants have the possibility to further their careers in both their quality of work and build relationships among colleagues and clients.

Legal English

This course will provide delegates with the ability to communicate at an international level using precise and correct legal language. Upon completion of the course, participants will have improved their confidence in explaining points of law, enhanced their drafting and editing skills, and ultimately will be able to represent their organisation in a more effective manner.

TESTIMONIALS

YOU CAN GAIN A REAL PERSPECTIVE OF OUR DELEGATES' EXPERIENCE ON THE PROGRAMME FROM THE TESTIMONIALS BELOW

WU YUSHU

STUDENT OF EAST CHINA NORMAL UNIVERSITY, SHANGHAI (CHINA)

This summer vacation was the most unforgettable experience in my life. As I stepped on the land of Oxford, I knew that I would love this place. CBL International welcomed us with their sincere speech from the organisers and had a wonderful cocktail party which provided us with great opportunities to get acquainted with other exchange students. After that, I found the programme extremely enriching with both lectures which provided us a broad overview of basic concepts about economic management and a great communication environment of knowledgeable professors and also activities which broadened our horizon and helped us in understanding more of the British culture.

BETTINA BAKOS

STUDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ROME (ITALY)

These 2 weeks were the best experience I have ever had. We gained new and useful knowledge about law fields and got familiarized with important issues of both in European Union and at international level. Furthermore the CBL team has been great. We spend a lot of time together on day trips to Woodstock, Blenheim Palace, London etc. I would highly recommend to anybody to come to Oxford and participate in this programme.

EMERITUS PROFESSOR KEITH HAWKINS (FELLOW OF ORIEL COLLEGE)

FACULTY OF LAW, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD (UK)

CBL INTERNATIONAL OXFORD SUMMER INSTITUTE AT ORIEL COLLEGE 2011 TO PRESENT

Teaching at CBL International is always an enriching experience. The participants are very motivated so that a lot of material can be covered in a short period of time. For those who are seeking a challenging course in a truly international environment, I can recommend CBL International.

GUAN YAN (VICE SECTION CHIEF - SECTION OF FACULTY AND STUDENT EXCHANGE)
NANKAI UNIVERSITY, TIANJIN (CHINA)

The summer course held by Oriel College and CBL International was very well done. The students could choose 4 courses from total 28 courses in four different fields including Law, Economics, International Relations and Legal & Business English. The students enjoyed the courses which are all given by professors who are related with Oxford University. This ensured the quality of the courses. The students studied and lived for 4 weeks at Oriel College, just like a real Oxford student!

They experienced the way of how Oxford professors teach and how to learn in a Western background. They communicate with their teachers and classmates from all over the world. After a whole month of study, they said, everything is like Harry Potter except that we did not learn any magic! The summer course may change their life direction in the future and has definitely changed their mind in a good way.

PROFESSOR HENRY HUANG (VICE DEAN OF LAW SCHOOL) BEIJING NORMAL UNIVERSITY (CHINA)

My students have different majors and most of them went abroad for the first time. Before our departure, they were all excited and curious about foreign culture and exotic customs. After one-month study, all my students successfully obtained graduation certificates and are satisfied with this experience. I was deeply impressed by the vigorous and interactive class atmosphere. Students were encouraged to express their thoughts and opinions, and some brilliant ideas could often be sparked during the process.

At weekends, CBL International organised trips to Bath, Cambridge and London and other activities, which were very interesting and educative, and closely linked to the law and economy study. I think CBL International summer session programme is a wise choice for both Chinese university students and teachers to open academic visions and experience foreign culture.

SUSAN ZHOU (INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM MANAGER SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS & MANAGEMENT) TONGJI UNIVERSITY, SHANGHAI (CHINA)

In August 2011, participants from School of Economics and Management, Tongji University attended Oxford Summer Institute, organised by CBL International and Oriel College. The programme was a very well-organised workshop, focusing on international economics and management. It lasted 4 weeks, combined with several lectures delivered by Oxford professors and visits to Cambridge and London. The lectures have been a great experience in terms of having the opportunity to learn about UK business culture and society. Oxford University is the oldest university in the English-speaking world. It is also regarded as one of the world's leading academic institutions. It was a great experience for us to live, study and have meals at Oriel College. We can trace the university's roots back to the end of the 12th century from its lordly architecture. The facility in dormitory, lecture venues and dinner room was excellent. Our hosts at Oriel and CBL International team have been fantastic, and have really helped to make the visit enjoyable and interesting.
